Gen. Crowder Fears Paralysis of Cuba

BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.
HAVANA, Jan. 13.—Maj.-Gen. Enoch H. Crowder, special representative of President Wilson, investigating conditions in Cuba, in a statement tonight after referring to the failure of the board and courts to function within the prescribed limit, said that the agencies continue to fail, Cuba, in due course of time, will be confronted with an interim provincial and national election, and after the first Monday in April, next, with the exercise of the legislative power.

President Menocal has submitted a bill of recommendations to the central electoral board to speed up decisions on election appeals. He points out that the powers of the board give instructions for the efficient handling of the election machinery and declares the necessity of quick decisions with regard to the successful candidates so that the country shall not find itself without a government.

Gen. Crowder until tonight had maintained absolute silence since his arrival here on the cruiser Minnesota a week ago. His statement, which sets forth what has been accomplished thus far at the instance of the President, follows: "As President Menocal has so forcefully stated in his admirable letter to the central electoral board, the urgency of the present electoral situation lies in the fact that already, through the failure of the electoral boards and courts to function within the prescribed time limit, we have today an ad interim or provisional municipal administration in a majority of the municipal districts of Cuba.

"If these agencies continue to fail, Cuba, in due course of time, will be confronted with an interim provincial and national administration, and after the first Monday in April, next, with a total paralysis of the legislative power, due to the fact that on that date one-half of the seats of Congress will become vacant.

"The electoral boards have functioned and posted their provisional returns. What is lacking in the action of the Cuban judiciary on the contested election cases, of which there are a great number, involving practically all of the colleges of the Oriente and Matanzas and a large number of the colleges of Santa Clara, including whole municipal districts, and a smaller number of colleges in other provinces.

"What has been accomplished thus far at the instance of the President is the patriotic co-operation of the Supreme Court and central electoral board in the issuance of proper instructions and regulations and the patriotic co-operation of political parties in the waiving of certain provisions of the legal procedure of Cuba, all of which means a most expeditious procedure for the courts in deciding these numerous appealed cases.

"The electoral code of Cuba makes it possible to proceed in this manner." (Continued on Second Page.)

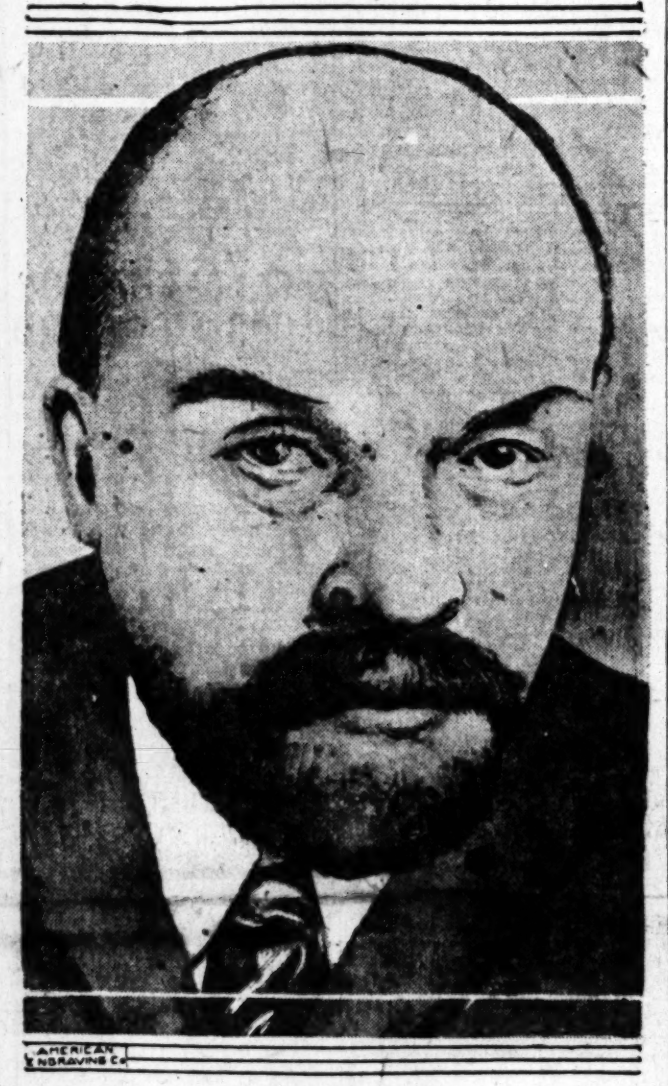

FEDERATION RAPS SOVIET. Members Will be Fought; Stand of America Given in Letter.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Official recognition of the Soviet government by the United States was opposed by the National Civic Federation here today. The adoption of a resolution denouncing Leninism and supporting the cause into which they have plunged Russia, and in support of the incoming administration at Washington in resistance to the policy of the Soviet government, followed the reading of a letter from the Secretary of State Davis, outlining the country's policy toward Russia.

Theater Pact Is Ratified by Associations.

A contract was signed early this morning between the Los Angeles Theater Association, the Theater Owners' Association, the two representing about 140 theaters, and the Moving Picture Machine Operators' Union, representing all of the operators in Los Angeles of any size and including suburban houses, which averts the threatened strike of the operators. It covers a period of one year from Jan. 1, 1921, and increases the pay of the operators 15 per cent. The men will continue to work seven days a week. There are no other changes in the working conditions.

DEATH OF LENINE RUMORED. Reported Reds' Head Succumbs to Illness.

NEW YORK REDS DISCREDIT DEMISE.

BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LONDON, Jan. 13.—A communication from Moscow announcing the death of M. Karpoff, member of the supreme economic council of Soviet Russia, is quoted in a Berlin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph here, received today. The supreme council in Moscow contains no person named Karpoff, and it is an old pseudonym of Nikolai Lenin, the Soviet Premier. Some of his publications bear that name.

WORLD RED RULE PREDICTED.

Lenine, in Recent Interview, Forecasted Utter Economic Breakdown to Take Place in Europe, Followed by Complete Bolshevik Triumph.

BY NIKOLAI LENINE.
I see that some of the English labor deputies, who recently visited Russia, criticize me for not being sufficiently acquainted with English conditions. As a matter of fact, they struck me as being curiously ignorant of English conditions themselves. Lansbury has ludicrous ideas about the importance of the Anglican Church, and some of the others take an equally fantastic view of the English constitution, the English King and the organization of British society. They think the King is impartial, though it is as clear as daylight that he is inextricably allied to the reactionaries. He did not punish those reactionaries who took direct action in Ulster six years ago, but he punished mercilessly those republicans who take direct action today in the south of Ireland. If the miners rebel against the exactions of the lords, King George will shoot them down like dogs.

STOWAWAY MAYOR TALKS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Lord Mayor O'Callaghan of Cork, described today before the commission from the committee of one hundred investigating Irish conditions his efforts to function as chief executive of a city of 100,000 population while "on the run." Officials of Cork, he said, found it impossible to devote their best efforts to its administration when they were in daily fear of arrest or assassination. He said he had not slept in his own home for two years and that in his absence his home had been raided eight times by the crown forces. Visiting the City Hall, recently destroyed by fire, he said, were few and far between, and administration of public affairs was carried on wherever he was living. MAYOR IS UNPURTURBED. MURGUIA, FORMER CARRANZA GENERAL, BEATEN IN FIRST CLASH WITH FEDERAL FORCES

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.
EL PASO (Tex.) Jan. 13.—Gen. Francisco Murguia, commander of the northern zone of Mexico under the Carranza regime, has taken the field in opposition to the government of President Obregon. Official dispatches to Consul General Montes de Oca in El Paso received today tell of a battle between the Murguia forces and those of the government in the State of San Luis Potosi.

The rebel general fled, pursued by Federal troops, after eight of his men had been killed and a number wounded, according to the report. Murguia, who had been in prison in Mexico City since the death of Carranza last May, recently was released on bail. Shortly after his release he disappeared and was believed to have fled the country.

According to news received at the consulate here, agents have been spreading revolutionary propaganda in many of the garrisons in the interior of Mexico. Thus far, the only result reported has been an incipient revolt in the garrison at Puebla, followed by the arrest of three generals and three colonels, who are to be court-martialed.

LIQUORS BY AIRPLANE IS THE LATEST. "Flying School" Conducted for Smuggling, is Charge of Officials.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—Airplane delivery of liquor from Canada and its distribution through a comprehensive organization, operating under the cloak of an ostensible airplane school were reported today by D. C. Smith, prohibition officer from Portland, Ore., co-operating with John L. Condon, prohibition supervisor, in an investigation of the alleged association.

According to information which the officers said they had obtained, the association has an initiation fee of $500, has 250 members in Portland, Ore., co-operating with John L. Condon, prohibition supervisor, in an investigation of the alleged association.

NATION-WIDE STAGE STRIKE THREATENED.

Actors' Equity Association Demands Expulsion of the Shuberts.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—A repetition of the nation-wide stage strike of 1919 may result from the breach of relations between the Actors' Equity Association and the Producing Managers' Association, which was precipitated today.

The rupture was caused by the demand of the Actors' Equity Association that Lee and J. J. Shubert be expelled from the Producing Managers' Association, for alleged violations of their agreement with the Equity, and discriminatory treatment against Equity actors.

Lee Shubert tonight characterized the complaint against the Shuberts as "a silly and based on six dirty chorus girls." The Shuberts interests employ about 1000 actors, controlling virtually 75 per cent of the New York playhouses and a like percentage through the country.

JAPS EXPLAIN SHOOTING. American Killed When He Did Not Heed Order; Fired at Sentry.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Notification that the Japanese commanding officer at Vladivostok had given orders that heretofore sentries must not challenge Americans, and the formal expression of regret by the Japanese government, went far today toward adjusting the situation which has arisen over the fatal shooting by a Japanese soldier there of Lieut. W. H. Langdon of the cruiser Albany.

The action of the commander, Gen. Ota, was reported to the Navy Department by Admiral Gleaves, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic Fleet, who was on his way to Vladivostok to conduct an investigation. The Admiral added that the report had been sent to him by radio, and that in view of the developments, he had abandoned his trip.

CALLS ON DAVIS. Ambassador Shidehara of Japan called on Acting Secretary of State Davis today and expressed the deep regret of his government over the incident. Earlier he had received from the Japanese Foreign Office a version of the shooting which differed from an earlier official version issued in Tokyo in that the Embassy's account agreed with that

TALK WAR WITH JAPS.

Menace Discussed in Senate.

War Department Plans to Strengthen Garrisons in Hawaii, Panama.

Congress Hears Why Experts Think It Necessary to Keep Up Recruiting.

BY GRAPTON S. WILCOX. (EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The Japanese menace, Democratic Senators declared today, was responsible for the "defiant attitude of the War Department toward the will of Congress against continued Army recruiting at this time.

In opposing and preventing action on Senator New's resolution to limit the size of the Army to 175,000 men, Senators disclosed that the War Department has plans for immediate strengthening of the garrisons in Hawaii, Panama and other important strategic points in the Pacific.

Danger of war with Japan was discussed without reservation by Senator Phelan of California, who sought to impress upon the Senate that it would be a great mistake now to reduce the size of the Army. He also urged universal military training and inquired what had become of agitation for this principle of national defense.

Senator Fletcher of Florida told the Senate without reservation that one of the principal reasons for the War Department's action in continuing recruiting despite the attitude of a majority of Congress against it was the plan to greatly augment the Pacific garrisons. Adoption of the new resolution to suspend enlistments, he said, would make it impossible to carry out these plans.

Senator Phelan, supporting the statement made by the Florida Senator, declared that the defense of Hawaii, "the key to the Pacific," depended largely upon the Hawaiian National Guard, which, he insisted, was recruited to a considerable extent from Japanese of questionable loyalty.

The Senate debated the New resolution for two hours, at the conclusion of which, by a vote of 24 to 29, it was pushed aside to make way for continued consideration of the Muscle Shoals reclamation bill. It is probable that the resolution may be brought up again tomorrow.

Meanwhile Senator Wadsworth of New York declared that the Army is receiving enlistments at the rate of 2400 daily, at an aggregate cost of nearly $1,000,000 a day to the government.

PHILAN ASKS QUESTION. Senator Phelan wanted to know what had become of universal military training. "Has it been abandoned simply to military training in the colleges while we propose to reduce the size of the Regular Army to 175,000 men?" he asked.

Senator Wadsworth predicted that within a short time, 1000 colleges and schools would be giving military training to their students with the aid of the War Department, under the Army Reorganization Act.

The California Senator nevertheless thought it would be exceedingly unwise to cut down the size of the Regular Army and emphasized the necessity for strong garrisons in the Pacific.

English sovereigns have been c

They are all violently opposed to the proletariat. But British labor leaders are not so stupid. They are not so incurable stupidly as England and France is the greatest asset of the Russian Communist republic, which was founded by the help of the forcing Kerenisky to continue the war and take Constantinople at a price which cost the lives of millions of men, and which was consolidated by their intervention.

But this is not all that attracted when a youth by the noble sentiments of liberty and justice which I read in French and English newspapers. I am not alone in this. The authors of these articles fear nothing. Their sole aim is to succor the helpless, and to save the poor from the hands of unscrupulous exploiters and foreign injustice." The speeches of foreign orators made a similar impression on the people of England and traveled abroad I was soon disillusioned.

It is disclosed that 99 per cent of these orators and writers were on sale to the highest bidder. Socialist Journalists whose clarion voices had been heard in the streets of London sold themselves as slaves to capitalist newspapers, or worse still, had been bought by the capitalists and sold themselves at the same time, Socialist orators, having climbed into power by the help of the slave people, had sold the people. What words of denunciation are there today than those of George Clemenceau, Mil-

Unfortunately the proletariat outside Russia does not realise the deeper meaning of the Russian swift action on their part. If a general strike is called in all the countries outside Russia, Russia and the world will be saved. If it does not take place in this time, the Russian Revolution may fail and the inevitable triumph of the toilers be postponed for many years. The only hope is that the utter economic breakdown existing in all the countries of Europe during the coming winter will bring matters to a crisis.

CHILDREN'S GRATITUDE.

If this great experiment fails the children at least will be grateful to us, for we have done our best for them. They have no voice, but they will grow into a forest beneath whose shade capitalism cannot live. We have constituted for the first time the nation of the children, of the poor and of the oppressed. We have turned the minds of all the world to the Russian Revolution. The ideal which could never have been so vividly impressed on them by the whole libraries of Communist literature. The Russian Revolution placed the academic theories about the rights of man on a pinnacle from which the whole world has been looking down. The Russian Revolution has graven forever on the heart of humanity the words "Dictatorship of the Proletariat."

The workers of the world will never again be the same. They will tend to unite all over the earth. They will be more conscious of their rights and of their responsibilities.

The world again he would certainly be leading the world of people executed by clergymen, capitalists, editors, militarists and the comfortable bourgeoisie. They would denounce him for unsettling the minds of workmen and the poor. But more likely they would drown his voice in the sea of indifference. They would write in their papers or speak in their churches.

Outside Russia no one has any idea of what a monopoly of all organs of publicity is possessed by the great capitalists. But our press in the Russian Revolution has shown I see that you have brought a copy of the Besnota (Poverty)—a leading Bolshevik newspaper at Moscow. I imagine that you have brought a paper in France or England calling itself "Poverty." In the same way, I imagine, you have brought a very good idea. (The crest of the Russian republic is a crossed hammer and sickle instead of the traditional symbols of each of the other nations make use of.)

prevent anything like the great blood bath of 1914 from ever being repeated. The capitalists and the military leaders and the kings have now a new force to reckon with. Formerly they declared war without considering the workers, but now they have to take into account the workers, and this makes him very seriously into their calculations during the short time that still remains them of hurried and frightened rule. For the proletarians know that it is expected to die in millions while capitalists, generals and kings will be spared.

[illegible]

We started, on the contrary, by giving the workers everything, and now we are asking for their support. We can talk to them in straight, truthful language, which is the language of the Soviet State over-employs towards the proletariat, for we are part of them, we are Soviet Jews. We are not flatterers. Hars, Judases who have deceived the people and whose whole endeavor is to make themselves remain in power, these scoundrels will remain in power. We are not flatterers and we will not flatter ourselves with fulsome promises and all the other rubbish of the bourgeoisie.

The greatest difficulty in effecting a revolution in a bourgeois society consists in safeguarding the leaders from arrest. Even if they escape arrest, their letters are intercepted, spies are in their midst, and they have almost insurmountable difficulties in coming and going. But here we have established a man who has been able to establish himself in the world's discontent. The Kremlin is our Vatican.

The man whom I met in Paris made me an impression of wealth, amiability and indecision, but behind that gentle and apologetic exterior I saw a man who was full of phrases of "democracy."

Europe has no liberty now. The conspirators over it like a sword. Its press and its orators are absolutely in the iron grasp of reaction, though the iron is lined with velvet. The iron grip, in some countries, slightly relaxed, so as to convey the impression that there is no hand holding the unprotected conspirators of the North Sea. Lloyd George and Millerand are prodigal of the old cant phrases of "freedom" and "democracy," but the phrases have depreciated like the Russian ruble.

and the most unlikeliest purpose of any race in the world. They bend easily, but they never break, and to this I attribute some of their misfortunes. The stiff, stupid Englishman notices that yielding nature and immediately catalogues them in his dull mind as "soft" because an Englishman of similar manners would be soft. When he discovers his mistake he is furious with the

as if they had grossly misled him, whereas, he has only got his own lack of imagination to blame. The British could easily be assimilated

The People and Their Daily Troubles

Do It With Diet; Great Danger Lies in Drugs.

BY JANE DIXON.

What is the most popular sport of the American people? Baseball? Wrong. Tennis? Wrong again. Bridge? What? Betting? Badinage? You have not struck it yet. Draw close. Draw close my children, and I will whisper to you a universal secret.

The most popular sport in America is reducing. Many a man in the United States today would rather face his mother-in-law than a pair of scales. Many a woman dines on a string bean and a glass of skimmed milk when her very good clamor for roast pork, French fried potatoes and a piece of peach pie.

The great fear of the age is that we will grow fat. Such fear is, in a way, commendable. Superfluity of bulk is conducive neither to speed nor efficiency. Excessive fat is likely to clog the brain cells as it does those of the body.

PREVENTION BEATS "CURE." Reasonable reduction, or better still, keeping the weight within bounds, is a healthy commendable. With flesh, as with discomfort in life, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

No people in all the world place so much importance upon physical fitness, upon preserving the contour of God's best handiwork and caring for its functions as the Americans.

This is to their everlasting credit. May it always be so. There is only one danger connected with this reducing business. As in all things, our enthusiasm threatens to carry us beyond the bounds of good health. We go in to the sport hook, line and sinker. The most difficult task within the scope of an American is to make haste slowly. When we decide it is time to reduce we want to turn the trick overnight. No turtle progress. And herein lies the danger.

COPELAND OFFERS ADVICE. Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Commissioner of Health for the City of New York, offers a bit of advice upon the subject which now occupies the attention of thousands of our citizens who have already entered or about to enter the ranks of the reducers.

"At the risk of making myself thoroughly unpopular with those engaged in the strenuous sport," says Dr. Copeland, "I must follow the example of our illustrious forbears.

George Washington. I must tell the truth. The only safe and sane way to take off weight is by diet and exercise.

"Do I hear groans and exclamations and imprecations? Even so, an operation is not exactly a happy event, yet there are times when we must have them."

"The diet is very simple," continues Dr. Copeland. "Eliminate starches, sugars, fats. 'Following the diet is a dish of another flavor. It requires will power for a man or woman to reduce. The weakling or the selfish finds it practically impossible, unless he subjects himself to authority in some institution."

THE FAT CRAVE SWEETS. "The unfortunate part of the situation is that fat craves the very things it should be denied. It craves sweets, pastry, candy, puddings. It demands potatoes, bread and the like. It is eager for rich meats, butter, cream."

"To say no to these hungerings and to keep saying 'no,' requires will power, determination, character. It is up to the individual to decide if the game is worth the candle. That is the question each must settle for himself."

"Green apples, lemons, oranges, fruits, except bananas, breads, from which the starch has been removed, must form the daily grind of the reducers. It is a fairly satisfactory list when you come to work it out in detail."

SKIMMED MILK GOOD. Regarding the milk diet in vogue with certain of the thinning circle, Dr. Copeland has this to say: "Skimmed milk contains all the ingredients for nourishment of adults, but none for fat making. It is rich in vitamins. Taken within reason and augmented by other nonfattening foods, it is excellent. However, a straight skimmed milk diet, carried on for any considerable length of time, is liable to be too great a shock to the system, to weaken it so that it becomes an easy prey to disease."

"This, by the way, is the great danger in all heroic reducing. I am told of a woman who fasted for twenty days and took off twenty pounds. At the end of the twenty days she was to disease germs what a shock to the system. If any of these germs had succeeded in working their way into her system they would have been ninety-nine to one for fatality. Her system was too weakened by such a shock to fight the enemy. Also, unless she had exercised extraordinary vigilance in the matter of taking up regular foods after her fast, she would develop acute stomach trouble."

STARVATION DEADLY. "When a person starts in to diet by the starvation method he gambles with his life. And he takes even a longer gambling chance when he reduces by means of any of the patent or other medicines which purport to obviate the necessity for diet or exercise."

"I do not know of one such remedy but has a direct and injurious effect upon the heart. Most of them contain thyroid extracts. Ask any reputable physician the effect of thyroids upon the heart. Dozens of the foolhardy have taken these reducing remedies without consulting a physician, have developed chronic heart trouble, or in case their hearts were already weak, have died suddenly and, to all appearances, unaccountably. Taking medicines to reduce is like crossing a wet street directly in front of a heavy truck on the chance that the truck will miss you."

Dr. Copeland is an earnest disciple of the arts of walking and breathing. "Walk briskly and breathe deeply," is his advice.

"You may saunter along for miles without getting any physical results other than tired muscles. To derive benefit from walking you must show speed, pep and perspiration. Get the walking habit and your waistline will measure in proportion to your mileage. Let some recognized physical instructor decide what exercises you need and once you have your course stick to it."

TAKE THE AIR. "Unless you breathe enough fresh air into your lungs to burn up and purify the waste in your system neither exercise nor diet will have proper effect. Take the air all the way down to your toes."

"Above all, do not worry about your weight. Worry brings about worse disorders than flesh. The main object of your physical efforts should be health. A healthy man is a happy man."

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES." Raps the Medics. LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The American Medical Association should withdraw the word American from its name as its attempt in Congress to pass bills giving it a despotic control is certainly un-American when it is considered that millions desire the freedom of choosing their own physicians and systems of healing. The association by giving voice to such an action certainly illustrates that it is strongly inclined towards autocracy and egotism.

The carriage manufacturer did not attempt to stop the manufacture of automobiles. Our forefathers did not attempt to check the progress of electricity. The automobile factories did not attempt to stop the manufacture of aeroplanes. If so, the attempt was not made in Congress under the cloak of the law. History has shown that advancement is inevitable. The comparison above is very broad but it was thought that produced new systems of healing, and if the medical association thinks it can stop the progress of thought it has another thing coming. This association, calling itself American, must be steeped in its materialism to such an extent that its thought has become darkened.

Simplicity His Slogan. LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In these times when unrepresented extravagance and vanity is the ambition at every public function, especially at the capital of the nation, it is indeed most encouraging and gratifying to know that the man who has been chosen to guide our great ship of state through the turbulent waters for the next four years, is a very plain man of mature years, a brainy American, who has the wisdom and foresight to see the extreme folly of an inauguration of vain display. It is most convincing proof that no mistake was made in the selection of our next President.

Our greatest men are always the plainest in their desires and ambitions. Let us remember at this time that greatest of all Americans, Theodore Roosevelt, who so urgently requested that his funeral and everything associated with it should be the plainest in every detail. Senator Harding's example of today is most worthy of emulation. Let us congratulate ourselves that our next President will not deem it wise or necessary to cross that broad Atlantic to dictate to foreign countries what they must do, but will stay right here on the job and direct and guard the present and future welfare of this, the greatest nation on earth. Let's keep in mind the wisdom and foresight of that great President, Abraham Lincoln, who said that the good Lord must have loved the common people, or he wouldn't have made so many of them.

Plea for the League. LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] This morning's issue of The Times contained in the second column of the editorial task, an editorial so distinctive and remarkable in many respects, that I cannot refrain from making special mention of it to you. I do not help feeling that it was a distinct misfortune for our beloved country, that the views therein so forcibly expressed had not been announced by you and thousands of other influential Republican papers during the late campaign. Although a Republican all my life, I would have a thousandfold preferred that the Democrats should have continued in power rather than that the United States should even long delay joining the League of Nations, or worse still, undertake to manufacture some sort of substitute.

I have always been and am now absolutely firm in the belief that the United States should have adopted the League of Nations without a single change within forty-eight hours after it was presented to Congress and trusted to the future operation of the League to determine what amendments, if any, should be made. To me, the course of President Harding and of those who undertook to explain or apologize for him from time to time, (including whatever has appeared in your own columns of this character,) has been pitiable.

Again, permit me to compliment the writer of this splendid editorial and to express the earnest hope that the attitude of The Times as therein indicated, may be consistently and persistently maintained until the "great plea" is answered. To a citizen like myself who has never allowed partisanship to become a disease with him, it is amazing that intelligent, well meaning and loyal men and women will allow themselves to do the things they do for the sake of party. Still more amazing are the positive crimes that are committed in the name of loyalty and in the name of religion.

Strong for the Hun. LOS ANGELES, Dec. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] A man came in my office just now and opened by saying: "Would you allow me to send a boy to your house two or three mornings with a copy of the Examiner?" I replied, "I always read The Times." He could see this morning's copy lying on a chair. He then said, "Here, but let me send the Examiner to your house for your family to read." My answer was, "I have bought The Times regularly for years and I used often to buy the Examiner as well, but since the Examiner got so pro-German I have never bought an Examiner, and I won't be seen carrying one." His reply was, "Pro-German, pro-German, I wish to tell the Germans had won the war." With that he turned and left my office as quickly as he could and before I had time to answer him, or to move out of my chair.

There is no need to comment on the above, facts speak for themselves. H. WATSON.

No Right to Kick. GLENDORA, Jan. 6.—[To the Editor of The Times:] This morning's paper publishes the expected sequel from Sam Gompers over the Supreme Court decision recently given concerning the rights and wrongs of certain labor organization actions. As was expected, Gompers rants over what he says he believes to be an alignment of the Supreme Court on the side of open shops and against all that labor has been fighting to obtain for forty years. I am only a farmer, or would be so designated at least by Gompers, and I have no quarrel with labor either organized or unorganized—as to grind and no old sores to be exposed, but I am to be and hope I am a good American citizen of the kind that feels he has a right to be disgusted and aroused over such propaganda as Gompers is constantly spewing forth.

Something like 800 years ago there began to land on the Atlantic Coast an incoming stream of people from England and Holland and France who had the love of liberty and righteous government so ingrained in their souls that strict rectitude of conduct and obedience to law really made them bend backward to their efforts to be good and compel good. From the lives of those people and from the lives of their descendants was finally borne forth the nation we are a component part of and which we contend like tigers to maintain. The founders of the nation generously made provisions that this country should be an asylum for the oppressed of all kinds and in doing that they could hardly fail to allow the admittance as a part of our body politic those surplus people from Central and Southern Europe that now form the nucleus and ferment of so-called labor organizations. It was the privilege and rights of citizenship in a congenial environment that the founders of the republic sought to accord, but not the rights of dictatorship nor the rights of defiance to constituted law which is evidenced by such men as Gompers. Gompers, an expatriated Austrian Jew, whose blood is infused by centuries of ancestry with hatred for the constituted government of the countries in which that ancestry lived and abided, comes to America and is accorded the privileges and rights of citizenship among those whose ancestors for the same centuries have lived and abided in an entirely different condition of law and liberty, privilege and right. The entire world, as well as the American people who are sired and damned by generations of Americans, consider the Supreme Court of the United States the most honorable judicial body it is possible to constitute with human beings as material, not infallible, but as human and justice necessarily be expected to be good and fair. Gompers should be allowed to contribute law with the forth and then we can apparently have a Solomon and decide a contentious and vexatious court of justice of our population and that disrespect to the law and justice that has before been done to the nation is hereby nullified. The very foundation of the republic is hereby destroyed. If the public desire persons nor say they are safely harbored in their decisions to us. It is his own opinion as to whether they be wise or unwise, based on his own

Little Lester, when to get his suit made or doing his best, rather than to God hadn't made man. (Boston Transcript)

BOXER CARTWRIGHT DEFEATS TOWNSEND.
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—John Cartwright, Third Army Corps heavyweight, defeated Ray Townsend of the Second Corps in five rounds today, qualifying to meet the English army champion in the international army, navy and police amateur boxing championships here Monday.

KIRKSEY'S RECORD HAS BEEN ACCEPTED.
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association has accepted as a recognized intercollegiate record, the time of 3 4-5s. for the 100-yard dash, made by Morris M. Kirksey in a dual meet between Leland Stanford, Jr. University and Oregon Agricultural College, last May. This was announced today by Thomas Fitzgibbon of Columbia, secretary of the association.

Is The Best Policy And The Only Policy Of The Yellow Taxi Co.
How a Society Woman Recovered $150 Within Less Than an Hour After She Left Our Cab.

On Wednesday evening at 7:10 o'clock Miss C. S. Chamberlain, residing at 1406 12th street, called a Yellow Taxicab, No. 87, to take her home from 937 S. Hill Street.

At 7:50 p.m., upon arriving home, she discovered that she had left a wallet containing $100.00 in the cab. At 8 o'clock she called Pecko 2 and told the operator at the Yellow Taxicab Company of her loss.

At 8:45 p.m. she phoned Pecko 2 once more to say that driver No. 87 had already returned the wallet and the money.

This is but one of the many instances that we are showing the honesty of the drivers operating Yellow Taxicabs. We have a hand-picked crew of chauffeurs who are subjected to the careful scrutiny as the tellers in the banks.

GOLF NOW IN FULL SWING.
Victoria Club Gets Into Zippy Action Today.

E. B. Tufts Predicts the Best Season Ever.
Spaulding "Pro" to Putt With Only One Hand.

BY PAUL LOWRY.
Golf is just beginning to hit its stride for the 1921 season. Last Wednesday marked the introduction of the weekly tournaments for the literary at the Pasadena Golf Club. Today the Victoria Club of Riverside swings into action with its annual invitation tournament. From now until summer golf tournaments will be as thick as mud on a spread all over the place.

Following the Victoria Club's three-day meet come the Southern California open championships, to be held over the Los Angeles Country Club course, on February 6, 7 and 8. Ed Tufts has been out burnishing up the greens at the L.A.C.C. until they are as slick as a whistle. Down at Riverside today they will play an eighteen qualifying round all sixteen to qualify. Tomorrow morning the first round of match play in all sixteen is scheduled with the second round matches set for the afternoon. The semifinal round in all sixteen will be played on Sunday morning, with the final round set for the afternoon. Trophies are up for low gross and net scores in the qualifying rounds to the winners of each sixteen, to the runner-up of the first sixteen, and to the winner of each defeated eight.

The Victoria Club has been greatly improved within the last two years, being manicured under the direction of W. Herbert Fowler, the English architect. Eighteen grass greens and a splendid course will greet the visiting golfers at Riverside today.

For the sixteenth consecutive time, President E. B. Tufts of the Southern California Golf Association, who has been making predictions just as long as he has been president, has come out with a statement that this year is to be the greatest year ever for golfers. The returned Edward appears to be right, at that, about the 1921 season. There are more courses than ever before, more enthusiasm, more of the right kind of men behind the game, and more high-grade tournaments scheduled than ever before.

TIJUANA RESULTS.
SAN DIEGO, Jan. 13.—Anna Wood, from George Wingfield's stable, won the six-furlong sprint today at Tijuana, a race for 3-year-olds. The results:

FARRELL MAY BE LANDIS'S SECRETARY.
CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—John H. Farrell of Auburn, N. Y., for twenty years secretary of the National Association of Minor Leagues, is slated to become secretary to Federal Judge K. M. Landis, commissioner or organized baseball. It became known today.

DELAWARE TO HAVE BOXING COMMISSION.
DOVER (Del.), Jan. 13.—A boxing bill, the first in the New Jersey law, is under consideration by the lower house of the Delaware Legislature. It would authorize the Governor to appoint a commission to have jurisdiction over all bouts.

Top o' the Morning.
One of the prettiest nags on the Tijuana track, who is expected to set the other horse-flesh go-fasts an awful pace in the feature race on today's program.

GRIDIRON CLASH FOR FAIR.
Conn's All-Stars Are Ready to Tear Up Ground With Akron Eleven.

Football fans of Southern California will get their first taste of professional football when the Akron (O.) team and Conn All-Stars tangle on the Tournament Park turf tomorrow afternoon.

The Akron team is in splendid condition, having worked out daily for two-hour spells on the Recreation-avenue field of the Y.M.C.A. In this respect the Akron boys will have the edge on the All-Stars, Conn. having been unable to assemble his complete team until this week.

SOCCKER GAMES SUNDAY.
Four Southern California Soccer League games are scheduled for Sunday afternoon, in the play off of the fourth round.

At Exposition Park, the leading footballed will play the Long Beach Uniteds. The Beachmen have a good side capable of playing clever and aggressive football, and their tussle with the leaders promises to be fast and keenly contested. They have a big task before them, however, if they hope to stop the champions, and should they succeed, will merit the honor of being the first eleven to perform the trick this season.

MANY IN THE CHARMED RING.
Twelve New Clubs Join the Southern Branch A.A.U.

San Diego Organizes a Basketball Contest.
Pat Higgins Works on a Clever Golf Scheme.

Since National President Bob Weaver's ascension to the A.A.U. throne the Southern Pacific branch of the A.A.U. has been growing by leaps and bounds, so to speak.

The list of the newcomers includes Polytechnic High School, Los Angeles High School, Lincoln High School, Hollywood High School, Manual Arts High School, the University Club, the Southern California Soccer Association, Los Angeles City Men's Club, D-Arrow Club, Army and Navy Y.M.C.A. (San Diego), San Diego Y.M.C.A. and the San Diego High School.

EXPECTS MORE.
Gen. George Adair, chairman of the membership committee, is working for new members right along, and expects to have several more in the ranks before long.

TAKE TWENTY.
It will take twenty more clubs to bring the sixth vote to the southern branch, but the locals are out to get it according to Weaver.

BOUT IS OFF.
GRAND RAPIDS (Mich.), Jan. 13.—The ten-round boxing match between Billy Miske and Eddie McGorty, scheduled for tonight, has been postponed because of an injury to McGorty. It was announced today.

BEST QUARTER.
George Capron, in the heyday of his career, the best quarter-back ever turned out of Minnesota, is showing up yesterday and wants to play on Conn's team. George is rather large now—about 205 pounds—but is still fast. He will play a guard, and may be used to do the punting.

HOCKEY PLAYER IS KILLED BY A PUCK.
TORONTO, Jan. 13.—E. D. Hawthorne died today after being hit on the head by a puck in a hockey game last night. He continued playing until the end of the game, when it was found his skull had been fractured.

RACKET CHAMP DOWNS GLOCKER.
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13. Jock Soutar of the Racket Club, open racket champion of the world, defeated Otto Glocker, three sets to one in the first professional court tennis tournament ever played in the United States. Score, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2.

ALUMNI IS VEXED AT POLICIES.
Los Angeles College Dissatisfied at Stanford's Exorbitant Requirements.

Disaffection of Los Angeles alumni of Stanford University's present policies of administration was expressed at a meeting of the Los Angeles Stanford Club at the City Club last night. These policies—which enact a heavy tuition fee each quarter and demand scholarship entrance requirements far above average—are in contrast to the ideals of the founders of the institution, according to speakers at last night's gathering.

The viewpoint of the local graduates was taken north by Leland S. Cutler, member of the university board of trustees, principal speaker of evening, who was here unofficially to hear alumni grievances. Under present methods in university administration, alumni wield a power not previously held and it is believed by those in touch with Stanford affairs that the existing drastic regulations will be modified.

GYMKHANA DOINGS AT MIDWICK CLUB.
The Midwick Country Club is to have one of those gymkhana things on Sunday afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock. An egg and spoon race, a relay race, a doughnut race, a balloon race and a flock of other events—all on horseback—have been carded for the afternoon entertainment. The gymkhana is for the boys who will provide the thrills. A. T. Perkins is the polo manager. The public will be admitted to the doings free of charge.

Bill's Worries Have Vanished.
Esick Easy About His Champs Being in Trim.

Winter Baseball Puts the Tigers on Keen Edge.
Irish Meusel Divorces His Pesky Adenoids.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.
Fear that his athletes will be undisciplined is the least of Bill Esick's worries, providing the Vernon Napoleon has any troubles to disturb the placid functioning of his master mind.

Quite a bunch of Bill's athletes have been doing their spring training in November, December and January as esteemed members of Bob Fisher's All-Stars, who are on the ill-white end of the great Caucasian-Senegambian argument which has been buzzing all winter. Having trained themselves to perfection in this manner, said athletes won't have anything harder to do than go stale in the spring.

Wheeler Dell, fearing that he would become putrid, stated recently that he is going to cut the winter pastime and conserve his super energies. Wheeler has packed the old elbow away in a cotton undershirt, and will not unveil it until the commencement of spring activities. Mr. Dell is a wise old crake.

Most of the players engaging in off-season baseball claim that they are playing just often enough to keep them from gathering any moss, and will be able to get in shape in the spring with the minimum of effort, which certainly sounds good.

It is true that a rolling bone gathers no moss, but old-timers, who, as a rule are no more right than anybody else, will tell you that winter baseball is identical to high-class pastime in July and August, when the worn and ravaged sieve of care begins to blossom on the pitching arm.

There are still others of Bill's athletes who are hibernating in the East, and will come out in March as hungry for action as a flock of brown bears which have just heard the alarm go off. Bill will have some fat and some lean at the training table in March, and between them they will lick the moss kit clean, leaving but little for the starling bat boys of Europe.

day that egg ranching constitutes the second largest agricultural industry in the United States and the third largest in California. The eggs sold by California in 1920 were worth $50,000,000, he says. At Petaluma alone there are 6,000,000 hens at work. They produce 720,000,000 eggs a year and represent an investment of $21,000,000, keeping 24,000 persons at work the year around. The egg industry in this State affords work for 50,000 persons, he stated.

"The tariff of 6 cents a dozen on eggs was taken off by the Democrats just before the war," Mr. Kerrigan said, "and we did not experience keen competition until recently, because boats were scarce and ocean shipping rates were high, but ocean rates are down now, and eggs are pouring in from China and Australia in vast quantities. One boat recently brought in hundreds of cartons of eggs from China. These were laid down in this country at about 25 cents per dozen.

"Australia's winter is our summer, and because of the reversal of climatic conditions, Australia will soon be shipping in immense quantities of eggs while our hens are moulting. The California egg business must have some protection immediately or our vast poultry ranches will be worthless.

Speaking of egg profits, Mr. Kerrigan said that in 1919, which was one of the most prosperous years the industry has had, the profit per hen for the year was $1.31 at Petaluma. The gross income per hen was $5.18, and the cost of keeping a hen $3.87. He says that only by following the modern scientific methods of keeping from 2500 to 4000 hens on a ranch can the California poultryman really make a fair income on his investment and get fair wages out of the business.

STATE BODY JOINS RENT FIGHT.

The heretofore purely local rent regulation warfare, which is expected to reach its full swing when the ordinance passed by the City Council on Wednesday becomes effective on February 15, took on new fury yesterday, when it became known that the State association of apartment-house owners has joined in the fray.

A high official of the California Apartment-House Owners' Association was in the city last night and today will be busy with the men who are to direct the campaign from the landlords' side. It is expected that every available means will be used to check the rent regulation movement before it becomes Statewide, and although the larger and stronger organization is going to keep in the background it will really play a strong hand in the contest.

City Prosecutor Widney announced yesterday afternoon that he will issue complaints against landlords charged with violating the ordinance, enacted by the City Council and signed by Mayor Snyder, as soon as it becomes effective next month. "I shall do my utmost to secure convictions of any cases of landlords arrested for supposed violation of this ordinance," said Prosecutor Widney. "Personally, I believe that the ordinance will not stand the test of the courts. Judge Burnell, when he was City Attorney, and the present City Attorney, Mr.

Stephens, have expressed the same opinion."

NO APPRAISAL SPECIFIED.
The ordinance provided that it shall be illegal for Los Angeles landlords to charge rents which will return to them profit in excess of 11 per cent on their investment in real property or in excess of 16 per cent on their investment in furnishing the property. The ordinance provides no method whereby the amount of the investment is to be determined, so that it is assumed that in the test cases to be brought to the court, if it desires, appoint appraisers to determine the value of the arrested landlords' investments so the court will be able to ascertain if the rent charged brings a return in excess of the legal limit.

Harry G. Sadico, attorney for the landlords, said last night that his side feels "more confident every hour, and happy that the thing is going to be fought out in a hurry." He also intimated that the landlords have already decided who is to bring the matter to a test for them. This honor is reserved for a woman, whose name is for the present being withheld.

ONE SIDE FRIENDLY.
Although the landlords say they will rush in a "friendly suit" to test the constitutionality of the ordinance, the tenants, through their association's spokesmen, are clamoring for punishment or at least to have several hundred landlords spend the night in jail by having them arrested so late in the day that it will be difficult to secure bail.

Mr. Sadico said yesterday that the landlords will contend that the ordinance is unconstitutional in that it takes property without process of law, and also in that it imposes the obligation of a contract. The tenants yesterday received circulars from their leaders urging them to stand fast and to refuse to pay their rent if they think the landlords are profiteering. The landlords were also instructed to keep up their spirits and were informed that victory for them seemed certain.

Grocers in Two Organizations Agree to Merge.
As a result of a resolution adopted last night at a dinner of the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association and the Southwestern Grocers' Association, at the City Club, these two bodies will be united in one organization to be known as the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association. The resolution was presented at the close of the dinner and was unanimously adopted.

The resolution indorses the work that has been done by the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association and urges that the constitution and by-laws of this body be used to govern the affairs of the merged organization.

BAD COIN MAKER IS FREED OVER PROTEST.
J. D. Clark who, four years ago, pleaded guilty to counterfeiting in U. S. District Judge Trippett's court, after his plant in Millard Canyon had been raided, has been granted a parole in spite of protests made by Secret Service Agent Hazen of the United States Treasury Department. Clark was sentenced to eight years in McNeil's Island.

Takes Poison on Mt. Lowe; She Won't Say Why.
A woman giving her name as Mrs. P. B. Morgan, was found in a precarious condition at Alpine Tavern, Mt. Lowe, yesterday afternoon from the effects of poison. The Pasadena police, after investigation, stated their belief that she had taken the poison with suicidal intent. A letter which she left and addressed to a local business man, gave no cause for her act.

The woman was taken to the Pasadena Hospital, where surgeons stated last night she would recover. She refused to make any statement. The name of Morgan was thought to be assumed.

SENTENCE SMUGGLERS.
Jail and Prison Terms Given Three: Fourth Stands Trial and Looses.

A quartet of Chinese contraband smugglers came to grief in U. S. District Judge Bledsoe's court yesterday. Jay Robb, Lester Davies, John Alviso and Moy P. Sing were the accused. Robb, Davies and Alviso pleaded guilty to the charge of violating the immigration laws by bringing six contrabands into the country. Robb was given a year and a day in the Federal penitentiary at McNeil Island; whereas Davies and Alviso, who brought boys, were let go with nine months in the Fresno County Jail.

Sing stood trial and a jury found him guilty. He will be sentenced next Wednesday. Sing is a Milwaukee Chasman, and some three ago was returned without a passport, and was taken to Mexico as a transit man to work in the cotton fields. He slipped across the line and the testimony showed that he had acted as an interpreter for the six other contrabands in their communications with the white smugglers.

DAMAGE IS SLIGHT.
Exchange Reports Coldest Part of Winter Passed, With Fruit Safe.

The citrus fruit crop of Southern California has passed through the coldest period of the winter so far without serious injury, says a report issued yesterday by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

The temperature was several degrees warmer Wednesday night than on Monday and Tuesday night, and but little orchard heating was done, and no frost damage was reported. It is admitted by the exchange that oranges were nipped in a few exposed spots Monday and Tuesday nights, but not hard enough to damage the fruit for market.

FIRE DAMAGES STOCK.
Clothing Shop in Long Beach Hard Hit by Blaze.

Fire, which for a time threatened several business blocks in the heart of the city, did damage estimated at $25,000 to the clothing stock of Fritz & Hillard at Long Beach early last night.

The blaze originated in the store-room, 117 West Fifth street, and is believed to have been caused by defective electric wiring. Damage was caused by smoke and water, and occupants of the Berkeley Apartments, above the store, were forced to leave their rooms. All were able to return to their apartments after the blaze was extinguished.

OSTEOPATHS WOULD BEAT HEALTH LAWS.
Defeat of the Smith-Tower, Fenn-Copper and France health bills, now up for consideration in Congress, is urged upon California Congressmen in a resolution adopted last night at a special meeting here of the State delegates of the Osteopathic Association's bureau of legislation.

DIRECTORS OBJECT TO CINEMA CENSOR.
Censorship of cinema productions would be a great infringement of the constitutional guarantee of free speech as would censorship of the press, declares a telegram sent yesterday to Gov. Stephens by Benj. Barker, president of the Motion Picture Directors' Association here. The wire protested against a censorship board bill now up in the State Legislature.

FLASHES.

MOROSCO STAR TO FILM.

CHARLOTTE GREENWOOD WILL DO "LONGER LETTY."

By Grace Kingsley.

If playgoers don't find a new show to go to every night, it isn't to be the fault of Oliver Morosco, so busy is that theatrical producer, these days, providing amusement for lovers of dramatic art.

Mr. Morosco's latest announcement, made yesterday, is to the effect that Charlotte Greenwood will shortly be one of us. The producer has practically completed negotiations with his New York star for her entry into films. And in addition to that Miss Greenwood is also to be the star of a new musical comedy, which will be produced at the Morosco Theatre here.

Miss Greenwood's first picture for the Morosco Productions, Inc., will be a film version of "Longer Letty," for which Anna Nichols, author of the stage success, will write the scenario. Following that the new musical comedy will be put on.

Another announcement is to the effect that Morosco will produce a new musical comedy, "Weeds." Miss Nichols is now in New York to witness the production of another play, "What's Your Number?" which is being put on by the Shuberts, but she is expected to return to Los Angeles to complete the scenario for "Longer Letty."

But this isn't all Miss Nichols has up her sleeve. She has a new play, "Morosco has commissioned her to organize and establish in "Moroscoville," as she has named it, a complete school of dramatic arts. This promise to be one of the most remarkable institutions of the kind in this country, and prophecies are that it will compare favorably with several famous dramatic schools of Europe.

Miss Nichols will have charge of the school for playwrights and scenic artists. The courses will include dramatic art, playwriting, scenario writing, music, dancing, costume design, scenery designing and expression. There will also be a branch devoted to the technical side of the stage production, as well as the writing and art sections.

"PENROD" AT LITTLE.

WITH WESLEY BARRY.

Once in a while comes an announcement of a match of star and play so happy that it seems nothing short of inspiration. Such a combination was arranged yesterday by Frank Egan, between Wesley Barry, juvenile picture star, and Booth Tarkington's "Penrod."

"Penrod" has been made into a play by Edward E. Rose, but it is said to have long been the original Tarkington flavor. In fact was one of the big New York hits of last season.

Now Wesley Barry is to appear in the production at the Little Theatre very soon. Rehearsals are to begin next Monday. Barry, with presenting so famous a headliner in the leading role, Mr. Egan is to give the piece with an all-star cast.

Otis Harlan, will have the role of the father of Penrod Schofield, Edna Wallace Hopper will be mamma Schofield, and Bessie Alexander will be Sam, while the dark-skinned Yarnum will be played by Little Aaron Mitchell, who appeared in "Dinty."

Lois Weber to Film.

Having completed her last picture for Paramount, which bears the interesting title of "Married Strangers," Lois Weber is to betake herself to New York early next week for a well-earned vacation. She will join her husband, Phillips Smalley, there, he having gone East about a fortnight ago.

Miss Weber was slightly hurt in an automobile accident a few days ago, but is entirely recovered.

Meyer Family Famous.

Now there are two famous people in Carmel Meyer's family, instead of one. Miss Meyer, who is a Universal star, has just returned from the East, where she witnessed the premiere of the musical comedy, "Brins Kyes," for which her brother, Zion Meyer, wrote the lyrics.

The premiere was given at Atlantic City, the Monday following Christmas, and the musical comedy was at once hailed as a success.

Disapproves "Way Down East."

Just as the province of Quebec, in Canada, wants in the way of film entertainment, it is hard to say, but the fact remains that the Board of Censors there has pronounced against Griffith's "Way Down East," according to word just received. In the meantime Griffith is doing a business of $100,000 per week in this country. So D. W. Griffith probably isn't worried.

Will Rogers' Latest.

Trust Will Rogers to hit the nail on the head. Charlie Chaplin was visiting the Goldwyn studio, the other day, and the two comedy kings were treading each other to imitations each of the other. When Rogers commenced to stand with feet turned out, after the famous Chaplin fashion, Charlie called out: "Hey there, that isn't the way I stand!"

Quick as a wink, Rogers came back, but with a disarming grin: "Why, Charlie, you ain't made a comedy in so long, nobody knows how you stand!"

Alice Gentle Bobs Hair.

After all, what is there in tradition? Alice Gentle, concert singer, grand opera heroine of dignified regalities, has been and gone and bobbed her hair! Why, taking the hair off the head of a grand opera singer, like taking the vote away from the American people! It simply isn't done.

Rut, of course, Miss Gentle, who is singing at the Philharmonic this week, just must be different, that's all. Another thing she does is cook well. Very well. And while cooking she just sets up the script of any new role she happens to be studying before her, and warbles while she works.

She has it all down to a fine system too. For instance, the day that she can sing $10,000 worth while trying a dozen doughnuts.

She lives in an apartment in the West End, and has a maid, but uses her principally for ornamental purposes.

Lucille Barrett Films.

They're going to have their own home-bred picture made in Mexico, by heck! But some of the companies are using a few American actors. For instance, the Down Film Company, of Mexico City, has just engaged a Los Angeles girl, Lucille Barrett, who has been appearing during the past year as leading woman.

Miss Barrett will leave for Mexico tomorrow.

MARY GARDEN IS NOW OPERA BOSS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—Mary Garden, American grand opera star, was elected general director of the Chicago Opera Association at a meeting of the executive committee today.

Her appointment, followed the resignation of Herbert Johnson as executive director and that of Gino Marinuzzi as artistic manager.

Miss Garden will have general charge of the affairs of the Chicago Opera Association, both artistic and executive.

Tomorrow, taking her maid with her, she speaks Spanish fluently, and will therefore not be embarrassed under Mexican direction.

Domestic Note.

Victor Moore and Emma Littlefield are to be married on their honeymoon tour by their two kiddies, this is to be the end of the journey for the youngsters. Mrs. Moore doesn't think it will be a bad thing for the youngsters to be with their parents in the cold with their children, so they will remain with relatives in Glendale, where the Moores are stopping while here.

Phillip a War Baby.

Little Phillip Lacy, who appears with Geraldine Farrar in "The Riddle: Woman," at the Symphony this week, is a French war orphan. He is adopted by the Lacy family of this city, who was a member of the corps of Women's Hospital Workers during the war, and who discovered the youngster with his dying grandmother.

One day Mrs. De Lacy was called from the hospital at Nancy to see an old woman who was said to be dying, and whom Mrs. De Lacy found in the cellar of what had been her home, lying on an old mattress. Beside her, pale, thin and covered with sores, lay the baby. He held out his little hands to the newcomer, crying out, "Mama!"

The elderly woman died, but before she passed away, she told the story of how the boy's mother had been killed in an air raid, two days after the baby was born. Her husband, having been previously killed in the war.

De Lacy came home a year ago, bringing the baby with her. His is a brilliant little fellow, and has appeared in a number of pictures.

MUSICAL.

RUSSIAN PIANIST.

SERGE PROKOFIEFF PRESENTS UNUSUAL PROGRAM.

By Joanne Redman.

Serge Prokofieff, Russian pianist, appeared last evening at Trinity Auditorium at the first concert of the Ambassador soloists' series.

"Prokofieff plays in a style wholly contrary to the manner current among Slav pianists. His technique is nonchalant and rather laissez faire, procuring, without an extraordinary effort, an extraordinary feeling. There are certain moments when his touch recalls Paderewski, but these are fleeting. Prokofieff is the antithesis of the romantic pianist.

The program was unfamiliar, for the most part. It began with the great Beethoven Sonata Opus 10, No. 1, in which the matter has rarely written more supremely for the piano. This was played with a thoughtful and restrained interpretation, but the Beethoven ruggedness was absent. The fine adagio, con effect, was played with a feeling, but it was Slav feeling that passed the Beethoven profoundly by.

The transition to Beethoven, to the modern Russians was achieved by a group of Schubert waltzes, played with brilliant brilliancy.

The modern groups pleased the most.

Here the pianist is completely at home, for he is composer of moderately modern tendencies himself, and he concluded the performance with a group of his own compositions.

The "Concerto in D minor," also was well liked. This work is an example of what can be done to a certain extent, with the American symphony orchestra, and the result, accomplished through serious and studious methods, is a very effective and well worked out, almost in canon style.

A Scriabin Poem and Rimsky-Korsakov's "Nocturne" concluded the program. The group of the modern groups pleased the most.

WOULD PACIFY TONGS.

Chinese Approach Director For Propaganda Film.

With the hope of pacifying the tinned tongues and permanently cementing the interests of China in this country, a group of influential Chinese are considering the production of a propaganda picture. Well-known Chinese film actors will be cast in the principal roles. The picture is a propaganda project was disclosed last night when Tod Browning, director of "Outside the Law," admitted that a Chinese film actor from San Francisco had waited upon him with an offer to direct and produce the feature. It is doubtful, however, whether the present contract with Universal would permit such an undertaking on his part for several months. Mr. Browning is one of the few directors experienced in handling orientals in film work.

PASADENA ENJOYS "COMEDY OF ERRORS."

Shakespeare's amusing stage creation, "The Comedy of Errors," was revived by the Pasadena Community Players for a series of eleven performances last night. Gilmor Brown and William E. Fields will play the servant clown twins. LeRoy Ely has charge of the art side of the presentation and it promises to be unusually rich.

The Shakespeare Club attended the presentation.

REVIEWS.

MANTELL AS LEAR.

ACTOR EMPHASIZES ROLE'S SWEETEST CONTRASTS.

By Edwin Schallert.

Shakespeare's dramatic threnody of sorrows, "King Lear," had its first presentation in a span of years, with Robert Mantell in the title role, last night at the Mason. The performance again drew the brilliant tribute to the interpreter and the play of a capacity audience, who made their appreciation apparent in many curtain calls for the principals.

Mantell's portrayal of ancient Britain's royal victim of ingratitude is his crowning achievement in power and contrasts. He has himself of the full range which this magnificent role affords. His vitality was revealed with splendor in the scenes of madness, and in the violence of his curse leveled at the ingratitude of Goneril and Regan. Yet his portrayal never lacked that finesse and balance which avoid the pitfall of ranting, ever the chief danger in this work.

As "Lear," is a drama that is excessive in its demands on the general membership of the company, there are few actors who can adequately in the interpretation. George Sillwell, for instance, showed a tendency to bury his lines as Edgar in that transcendent scene on the Heath where Lear is the outcast with a fool and a man of letters. He reads with a successful clarity, but evinces no subtlety in the important part.

Much more even was the performance of John Alexander as Kent. Here was really an interpretation that had color and variety, and that won the need of laughter in the scene with the courtier. Miss Genevieve Reynolds and Agnes Elliott Scott were convincing as the recalcitrant daughters.

Genevieve Hamper always charms with her appearance, in whatever role she is seen. Her Cordelia was a reflection of beauty, but her reading was deficient as usual in depth and subtlety.

Henry Buckler, Leo Leonard, William Podmore and others in the cast were satisfying.

It is perhaps the most arbitrary organization in the Shakespeare play gallery, but its transcendence of mere technical heights and story of how the boy's mother had been killed in an air raid, two days after the baby was born. Her husband, having been previously killed in the war.

De Lacy came home a year ago, bringing the baby with her. His is a brilliant little fellow, and has appeared in a number of pictures.

The elderly woman died, but before she passed away, she told the story of how the boy's mother had been killed in an air raid, two days after the baby was born. Her husband, having been previously killed in the war.

For Pasadena will include Symphony No. 5 in C Minor, Opus 67 (Beethoven); Concerto for Piano No. 2 in A (Liszt); "Come Autumn Time" A Program. Overture (Sowerby); Introduction to Act III, "Tristan and Isolde" (Wagner); Prelude to "The Mastersingers" (Wagner).

EGYPTIAN BALLET

AT KINEMA THEATRE.

Following the enlargement of space on the Kinema stage by bringing out footlights and various technical innovations, S. Burdett McCormick, managing director, will tomorrow present the first of his personally produced ballets. Future productions, based on sketches of ancient Egypt, in "A Tinted Palace," as McCormick calls it, is said to herald a new school of presentation.

The setting, departing entirely from tradition, will especially be notable in the clash of color schemes, which, unusual as they may seem at first glance, will make toward a sympathetic blending.

The Ernest Belcher dancers have been engaged, and the ballet will form one of the features on the program, with Charles Ray's latest production "Nineteen and Phyllis."

Several hundred persons attended the formal banquet at the Alexandria ballroom last night, which marked the closing of the convention. Short talks were made by Mr. Levy and President Groman. An entertainment depicting in song and dance the three periods in California life, the early days, the golden days and the modern or "Jazzy" days, enlivened the dinner. A number of young children in fancy costumes danced, sang and aided in entertaining of the diners.

LAWYER QUIETED
IN CLINE FIGHT.

But Court Has First to Call Out "Mr. Bailiff."

Contempt Commitment Seems to be Very Near.

Conflict of Testimony on Complaint Withdrawals.

For a moment yesterday it looked as though Judge Monroe, sitting in the Sheriff Cline outer case, was about to commit for contempt of court, Attorney Bull, of Cryer, Bull & Foley, attorneys for the Sheriff, who is defending the suit brought by Chairman Dodge of the Board of Supervisors, who, on twenty counts, charges Mr. Cline with dereliction of duty.

Mr. Bull, who is of the aggressive type, attempted to argue over a technical point in the testimony. The court told him to be quiet. Mr. Bull persisted, and the court cried:

"Mr. Bull—take your seat Mr.
Bull."

The attorney subsided, but with evident reluctance.

The prosecution closed its testimony yesterday, and Sheriff Cline put on his defense Monday, to which date Judge Monroe continued the case. County Counsel Hill is assisted in the trial by Deputies Vallee and Powell.

Members of the motorcycle squad continued to give testimony yesterday. They were reluctant witnesses.
One had his recollection refreshed when he was confronted with a stenographic report of his evidence before the grand jury.

The question was whether or not Sheriff Cline had given instructions as to "letting up" on certain persons arrested for speeding.

The testimony in brief was that a great number of persons of more or less prominence had been arrested by the county motorcycle squad for speeding, but many were not prosecuted. The understanding seemed to be that when the alphas bore the initials "J. C. C." there would be no prosecution.

George Ruperich, secretary and stenographer in the Sheriff's office, testified that he was the person who put the "X" mark on the daily reports of arrests, indicating that the man against whose name a check mark appeared, was to be let off. He believed he placed the mark under instructions from the Under Sheriff and some times from the Sheriff. The "X" was always placed on the alphas when they bore the initials "J. C. C."

He testified he is familiar with Sheriff Cline's writing, and that the Sheriff signed all the J. C. C.'s on the alphas.
He admitted going to the clerk in the justice court for complaints filed against speeders, requiring him to return some, while others were brought to a hearing.

Justice Clerk Backman said he was the man from whom Mr. Ruperich withdrew the complaints. He declared it was the latter's custom to withdraw complaints after they were filed. Complaints were withdrawn three or four times a week, he stated. These withdrawals would run a high monthly average. Mr.
Ruperich's statement as to this did not accord with that of Mr. Backman's.

ORGANIZE FREE BUREAU

Fraternity Orders will Help Members to Get Employment.

A joint free employment bureau for members of various lodges, fraternal orders and other organizations of Southern California will be opened in the near future in Los Angeles, it was decided at a meeting held Wednesday night in the Knights of Pythias Hall.

The following organizations sent delegates to the meeting: Odd Fellows, Robert Mackey, I.O.W.A.M., W. R. Grinnath, Fraternal Brotherhood, George Adolph, Loyal Order of Moose, No. 316, Paul Shapiro; Loyal Order of Moose, Golden Lodge of Pasadena, Fred Swann; Benefit Association, James Cusson
and H. K. Kuttner.

It was proposed at the meeting that each organization will pay part of the expenses of the employment bureau in proportion to members in good standing. Employment will be given to members of the various lodges free of charge, and an office will be opened in the near future.

The following men were elected officers: W. A. Jackson, president; George Adolph, vice-president; William Burns, treasurer, and Paul Shapiro, secretary. Another meeting will be held at 10 o'clock January 20, in the Knights of Pythias Hall.

FINALE OF BALM SUIT.

Lost-love Case Against Physician Goes to Jury Today.

The $25,000 lost-love suit of Mrs.
Zelpha Bogue against Dr. J. M. Maure, wealthy retired physician of Marion, Ind., now a resident of this city, on trial in Judge House's court, will go to the jury this morning.

Dr. J. Ross Moore will first be called by the defendant to corroborate Dr. Maure's testimony that at the time the marriage was said to have been proposed, Dr. Maure was in a hospital. Dr. Maure admitted he might have held Mrs. Bogue's hand on occasion, but denied he ever made love to her.

RUBS GOLD INTO

Blue-printed walls with rubbed-in scheme at the Willard George fur store on the casino floor of the new Ambassador Hotel, Walnut street.

Hand-carved, adds to the richness, Mr. George says he will show the most expensive furs ever displayed in Southern California. He states that among his customers are leaders of fashion in many parts of the world.

ASK SHORTRIDGE TO

Senator-elect Shortridge of San Francisco was invited to address the City Club at the luncheon hour
today. Mrs. Clara Shortridge Folts, his wife, accompanied him.
A letter from him Wednesday stated that he would stop off here en route to Washington, but she expressed the belief that he will not be here to speak Saturday.

ceeding Mrs. Leslie Sloan-Orcutt,

Several Dozen
Police Shifts
Made by Chief.

With a statement that other changes may come in the near future, Police Inspector A. W. Murray yesterday announced police shifts that involve the heads of two squads and a large number of patrolmen.

Lieut. A. L. Gifford, who has commanded the Metropolitan ("Purty") squad for a number of years, is replaced by Police Sgt. W. B.
White. Gifford is detailed to the morning watch at Central Police Station. Sgt. White is relieved from command of the Chinatown and Hollywood squads and appointed to head the Chinatown squad only about a month ago.

Patrolmen Newletter and D. McD.
Jones of the Chinatown squad were relieved and their places filled with new men. Thirty-five other patrolmen were transferred from one beat to another and from one watch to another.

After making the changes, Chief Pendegast stated that the shifts were all made for the good of the service.

SCORES METHOD OF PASADENA JUSTICE.

JUVENILE COURT JUDGE SAYS
CROWN CITY POLICEMEN UNJUST TO BOYS.

Sam Orenstein and Sam Harman, youths 15 years of age, who were arrested for selling what proved to be counterfeit tickets for the recent Berkeley-Bakersfield football game, were photographed and had their fingerprints taken by the Pasadena police. When they appeared before Judge Thompson of Pasadena he bound them over to the juvenile court and fixed the bail at $500 each.

The lads came before Judge Weir of the juvenile court Wednesday and when he heard the facts he exonerated the lads, discharged the lads and scored the Pasadena police and Judge Thompson.

"These boys should not be branded as criminals," he declared with some heat. "I will also say that the bail fixed by Judge Thompson is an outrage."

The evidence showed that the boys had bought the tickets from a man at a reduced price. They sold them to others, but when the buyers presented them at the gate the tickets were refused. Orenstein and Harman made good the money they had lost on the tickets.

CLERK WON'T TELL.

Upheld by Court in Not Disclosing
Hiding Place of Col.

Frank Crowell, a clerk in the Chapman Hotel, declined yesterday in Justice Pollett's court to state where the money he kept in the hotel.

"It might be a tip to some other bandit," said he, and the court agreed he did not have to answer.

Crowell was testifying against Harris West, accused of holding him up in the hotel. West, W. C. Morgan, a sailor, Mabel Pinkston and Madge Rhodes are also accused of robbery and kidnapping.

H. R. Greene. The young women are said to have lured the two victims to an alley where the accused men are reputed to have robbed them.

Detective Sergeant Slaughter and Philinson assert West has engaged in a number of robberies and bur-
until today.

OCCULTISTS
TELL ABOUT
"LOST WORD."

Man Let Foot Slip, They Say, and, Presto, Wonder-working Syllables Vanished

Metaphysically the First Annual Metaphysicians' Midwinter Carnival draw to a close yesterday after a three-day session in Choral Hall.
Lella Simon Castberg, former leader of the New Thought Temple in Cincinnati, was the guest of honor and one of the principal speakers.

Mrs. Castberg spoke of the "lost word," the word which, she said, once gave man power to move the stars and calm the turbulence of the ocean. Some time in the dim dark ages of a forgotten past, man let his foot slip and the word was lost. Man then became subservient to an "objective mind." For years, the speaker said, many occultists have striven to lift the veil and so bring back to man this "lost word." It is yet to be found, she said, and all who seek it must find "ego" in a proper manner may have the chance of finding it. With it that involve the heads of two squads
er over the animals and inanimate, so that what now seem miracles will be but trifling incidents.

Dr. J. C. Diamond, though he did not mention the "power of the word," declared in his address on "The Extremity: The Open "ego" that man may have the power to slip a few more stars in the firmament and that the word will. "The universe," he said, "may be controlled by man if he so wishes it."

One Woman Wins,
Other Loses in a Land Claim Suit.

Harriet M. Willard, widow of John
A. Willard, a soldier during the entire Civil War, who was taken a prisoner at Gettysburg, Pa., and afterward shot in the neck in the battle of Seven Pines in front of Richmond, won her case, involving a quarter section of land near Esperanza, by a decision of the yesterday by Register Groves and Receiver Mitchell of the local land office. Her right to the land was contested by Ira C. Lambert, who asserted she had not done the necessary work.

Willard died in Riverside, March 18, 1915, and had complied with the law up to that time, having lived on the area seven months. When he died his widow was entitled to the land on account of his military services, but not understanding the law, failed to claim it.

The land officials held that she did the necessary work, and that she was claiming the land, only having his pension and the rent of a room in her home to furnish her an income, and that she is entitled to the quarter section.

DENTIST AGREES TO PAY ALIMONY, COSTS.

STIPULATION FILED IN SUIT OF MRS. ALVIN VINCEY FOR A DIVORCE.

Under a stipulation filed in Judge Summerfield's court Wednesday, Dr.
Alvin V. Vincey agreed to pay his wife, Louise F. Vincey, $200 a month alimony pending the trial of her suit for divorce. Dr. Vincey will also pay attorney's fees of $250 and $25 costs.

Mrs. Vincey complained in her suit that her husband, a prominent Pasadena dentist, insisted that his wife accompany them on their automobile trips and that she act as a chauffeur.
She states that on these occasions the girl assistant received Dr. Vincey's attention and the wife was ignored.

It is also declared that in their home Dr. Vincey referred to his wife in disparaging terms, but spoke of the girl assistant in affectionate ones.
Mrs. Vincey says her health suffered from her treatment and that she is an nervous wreck.

The complaint asks that Mrs.
Vincey be given the custody of her three children. She says her husband has an income exceeding $1000 a month from his practice as a dentist.

IRRIGATION BOARD
DROPS COSTLY MAN.

EL CENTRO, Jan. 13.—Walter Kibbey, special agent for the irrigation district at $25 a day, has been removed from the payroll by a vote of the board. Directors J. B.
Nickerson, R. D. McPherrin and J. M. Edmunds voting "yes" and J.
Stanley Brown, "no." Mark Rose did not vote.

The action of the board in removing Mr. Kibbey was taken because the board feels that the time for sending a representative to Washington is not ripe. Recent developments have convinced the majority of the board that a representative is not needed at this time.

remain in the East for an indefinite period.

Fight With Detectives.Battle Way Through Immense Throng of Shoppers.Accused of Shoplifting, They Are Finally Cornered.

Mrs. Edith De Closs.

Following a desperate attempt to fight their way to freedom through a crowd of shoppers in a department store on Broadway and after a final effort, during which they fired six shots, to shake off detectives who were pursuing them, Lambert De Closs, alias J. C. Cloud, and a woman who says she is his wife, were arrested yesterday. Although the charge first placed against the pair was only shoplifting, police records show, according to the authorities, that the two are well-known burglars and footpads and that both have served time in various State prisons.

The arrest of the woman, who gave the name of Mrs. Edith De Closs, but who is said by the police to be Mrs. Blanche Morrow, came when she was seen stealing a pair of silk stockings from a counter in the department store. A woman detective employed by the store took her into custody and then also placed the man under arrest when Mrs. De Closs passed him the loot. The pair were taken to the store office and other store detectives were about to question them when De Closs drew a revolver from his hip pocket and threatening to shoot any one who stopped him, dragged his wife from the room.

CORNERED IN BASEMENT.
Forcing their way through a crowd of shoppers and still holding the revolver in his right hand, De Closs fought a path to the basement of the store and with his wife was cornered in the delivery department of the establishment. When the feeling man discovered that he could not escape he fired six shots from his automatic revolver against the cement of the floor. Glancing lead struck Richard Laughlin, an employee of the establishment, in the right foot, but inflicted no injury. A second bullet grazed the finger of Martin Nemeski, another employee. He was very slightly injured. De Closs and the woman surrendered after seeing that they could not escape.

At Central Police Station both of the prisoners were stealing the stockings and stated that they were actors out of work. They refused to give the police their address and stated that they were "living from one place to another." De Closs failed to explain to the officers why he ran or why he fired the shots in the basement of the department store.

Detectives Yarrow and O'Brien who investigated the pair, learned in the police identification bureau that De Closs was arrested for three hold ups and one burglary under the name of J. C. Cloud, and was sent to the State prison for a term of ten years.

MADE QUICK ESCAPE.
He was paroled out in July, 1909, and was again arrested by Police Detectives Jones and Boyd some time later on a burglary charge. While being taken from the point of arrest to the City Jail, Cloud escaped.

According to Detective O'Brien the police records show that Cloud was arrested in Jeffersonville, Ind., some time after his escape in this city and was sentenced to from one to fourteen years. Cloud was later sent back to San Quentin to finish his term there and was released in May, 1920.

The woman, according to the police, was convicted on a robbery charge in Napa county in 1919 and sentenced to from one year to life. She was paroled on July 1, 1920.

Though both the prisoners deny the charges of past records, police authorities insist the identifications made by finger prints and pictures are correct. Detectives O'Brien and Yarrow, stated last yesterday that today they will continue their investigation and believe they may connect the prisoners with several hold-ups in which a man and a woman have been involved.
